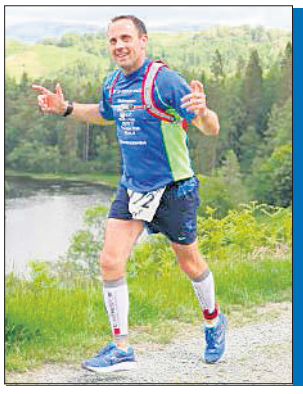
Pedal pals' coast-to-coast challenge



Dominic's FOURmidable fundraising stamina test

Members of the Kelly Shirley School of Dance who are representing Team England at the finals of the Dance World Cup in Germany

Young dancers bidding for World Cup glory

A TEAM of talented youngsters from West Lancashire are aiming to do what our footballers have failed to do for more than 50 years and bring the World Cup back to England!

But the 34-strong squad, with ages ranging from eight to 18, will be doing their fancy footwork on the dance floor not the football field after being chosen to represent Team England at the finals of the Dance World Cup in Germany.

The dancers, from the Kelly Shirley School of Dance in Ringtail Road, Burscough, face tough competition with some 12,000 rivals from 47 countries taking part in the 11-day contest which runs until Saturday, July 1.

But success at the highest level is nothing new for the dance school.

Owner, Kelly Tobin, said: "This is the second time we've made it through to the finals of the greatest all-genre dance competition in the world. In 2015, at the Dance World Cup in Bucharest, we won numerous medals for Team England and returned home as World Champions!

"Since then the dancers have continued to train relentlessly, focusing on competing closer to home and working on new routines. I can't put into words just how proud I am of them. They never cease to amaze me at just how dedicated and professional they are at such a young age."

FINAL PUSH TO CHURCH'S £500k TARGET

THE congregation of a grade-II listed church in Ormskirk are hoping to attract support as they begin the final push of a marathon £500,000 fundraising drive to finance a complete refurbishment of the 139-year old building.

Report by Danielle Thompson

Worshippers at Emmanuel Methodist United Reformed Church in Derby Street began raising cash to fund the task around 15 years ago. Since then they have managed to collect a staggering £400,000 through events including Christmas tree displays, summer fairs, flower festivals and concerts.

Now they are hoping to enlist the support of big-hearted locals and access charity conservation grants to enable the work to finally get underway early next year.

Their next fundraising event is a summer fair on Saturday (July 1). Running from 10am to 4pm this will feature stalls, all-day refreshments and displays of events held during the past few years, including their flower festival and nostalgia day which featured wedding dresses and photos and small displays of all aspects of life at the church.

The planned refurbishment will see the traditional main, wooden entrance door replaced with a clear-glass door which will automatically open for disabled worshippers. It will also allow passers-by to see into a newly-created café at the front of the church which will be open to the community.

The extensive work will also see disabled access installed in the café section, a new heating system, which may include levelling the floor and potentially installing underfloor heating, plus extensive rewiring and redecorating.

The fixed pews in the central section of the church will be replaced with chairs, which can be moved to create a mixed-use space for community groups to use and to hold concerts.

They currently use a projector and

Borough marks Armed Forces Day

MAYOR of West Lancs, Councillor Neil Furey was joined by service veterans and council officials to honour the sacrifices made by the armed forces at a special service to commemorate Armed Forces Day last week.

The Ministry of Defence flag was raised at the war memorial in Coronation Park, Ormskirk at a ceremony attended by the Deputy Lieutenant of Lancashire Mrs Gail Stanley; the mayoress Julie Furey; the council's chief executive Kim Webber and borough councillors.

Skelmersdale Prize Band performed before the ceremony and Father Michael Thompson, the mayor's chaplain, said a short prayer.

Residents call meeting over fracking fears

Report by Henry James

ONGOING concerns about the possibility of fracking in parts of West Lancashire has prompted residents to call a public meeting to discuss the subject.

This will be held at Crawford Village Hall on Thursday, June 29 starting 7.30pm.

It has been prompted by claims that energy company Aurora plans to carry out seismic testing in the Crawford, Skelmersdale and Bickerstaffe areas of the borough with a view to future fracking operations for shale gas.

However, the company, which was granted a Petroleum Exploration and Development Licence (PEDL) in 2016 for the Ormskirk, Skelmersdale, and Bickersatffe areas, say they have not finalised plans for the location or timing of any surveys.

In a letter to the Champion, Crawford resident, Dawn Krueger, wrote: "I think it's only fair that the public should know that a company named Aurora has a licence to explore for shale gas in the area of Crawford village, Skelmersdale and Bickerstaffe through a process known as fracking.

"The company has confirmed that it will first test these areas for their viability by a process called seismic testing. If successful, then the next stage will be a fracking rig.

"Aurora has confirmed that three old conventional oil wells in these three named areas provide good geographical data. In other words, we are at risk of this happening."

Ian Roche, managing director of Aurora Energy Resources Limited, said: "The initial phase of exploration in PEDL 262 will comprise the acquisition of a new 3D geophysical survey, aimed at providing a state-of-the-art image of the subsurface. The acquisition of such surveys is a fairly routine activity in the UK, with more than 75,000km of 2D and more than 3,000 km2 of 3D geophysical surveys having been acquired here since the 1960s.

"We have not yet finalised plans as to the likely location or timing of this work in PEDL 262. Aurora will, of course, contact local elected representatives and parish councils once these plans are more developed."

Carl and pals set to tackle 340-mile pedal power challenge for three charities

Report by Danielle Thompson

From left, six of the 15 'Way of The Roses and Back Again' riders Graham Sutch, Richard Taylor, Carl Hammal, Claire Lane, Cathy Jenkins and John Jenkins

IN his job as an oil rig abseiler Carl Hammal is used to tackling daunting physical challenges, now he's set his sights on a new one - cycling 340 miles coast-to-coast and back again in a day!

Along with 14 pals, the 44-year-old from Ormskirk is set to complete the pedal-power marathon from Morecambe to Bridlington and back, aiming to raise thousands for three charities that are close to his heart.

Dad-of-one Carl, who is a member of the Harry Middleton Cycling Club in Ormskirk, will be taking part in the 24-hour challenge, which he has dubbed 'The Way of the Roses and Back Again', starting at midnight on Friday, June 30.

He and his fellow riders, whose ages range from the 20s to the 60s, are raising funds for three national charities, Cancer Research, the British Heart Foundation and The Royal National Lifeboat Institute (RNLI).

Would-be sponsors who visit the group's page on online donation site, Just Giving, can choose which of the charities they would like their donation to go towards.

The intrepid bikers have already raised £960 so far but hope to raise at least £3,000 in total.

They are cycling the 'Way of the Roses' coast-to-coast challenge from Morecambe to Bridlington and back again, with a support crew made up of family and friends, and are aiming to compete each leg in less than 12 hours!

Former Royal Air Force deckhand Carl, told the Champion: "I came up with the idea to do the Way of the Roses as it has always been one of my dreams to cycle the route. However, most people do it in a nice, leisurely way, over two or three days - not there and back in less than 24 hours!

"The way I see it is that people will donate more if they feel that you are really challenging yourself to do something a bit wilder and this will be pretty tough now!

"These three charities area all close to my heart as I've had - as I am sure most people have - family and friends who have needed their support.

"Plus, I might someday need the RNLI to come and rescue me or a family member!

"We haven't been training as such but the club have been going on long rides every week. Recently we went on a 213-mile round trip to the Lakes and back and we have been on a few long ones earlier this month.

"But we haven't done anything like 340 miles yet, we're saving the best for last!

"If anyone would like to sponsor us and donate to any of these special charities, which we would be very grateful for, please visit jusgiving.com and search for Carl Hammal."

Businessman dumped 147 bags of waste in ditch at side of road

Fly-tipper fined £1,200 and ordered to do 100 hours community service

A BUSINESSMAN has been ordered to do 100 hours of community service after being caught fly-tipping in Newburgh.

Sean Ward, from Riding Close in Haskayne, dumped 147 bin bags of household waste in a ditch at the side of Cobbs Brow Lane, which was traced back to him after a lengthy investigation by West Lancs Council officers.

Wigan County Court heard that it was one of the biggest amounts of fly-tipped waste that the borough council has ever had to deal with.

Council officers recovered 147 bin bags of household waste from a ditch at the side of Cobbs Brow Lane

Message

Evidence given to the court stated that Mr Ward had moved this waste from a property in the Liverpool area and had been paid for this work.

He claimed during an interview with council officers that he had had vehicle problems and took the waste out with the intention of returning for it at a later point, something which he did not do.

He pleaded guilty to fly-tipping and as well as being ordered to do 100 hours community service he was also told to pay £1,223.10 in costs.

Dave Tilleray, who heads up West Lancs Council's environmental enforcement team, said: "The council is continuing to work hard to tackle fly-tipping and this case sends a strong message to all those thinking of illegally dumping waste in West Lancashire.

"Fly tipping is a serious criminal offence with unlimited fines for individuals and businesses found guilty of offences. Guilty parties could be sent to prison."

If you think waste has been disposed of illegally this can be reported to the council 24 hours a day online at www.westlancs.gov.uk/flytipping or by calling 01695 577177 between 8.30am and 5.30pm Monday-Friday.

False alarm after emergency services called to quarry

FEARS for the safety of a group of teenagers reported to have been seen diving into a quarry in West Lancashire at the weekend proved unfounded.

Following calls from members of the public, crews from Lancashire Fire and Rescue Service and police officers from Lancashire Constabulary attended East Quarry in Appley Bridge at around 4.30pm on Sunday (June 25).

However, after checking the area they found no sign of any youths in or around the water.

More than 4,000 people signed an online petition calling for the closure of the quarry after promising rugby player Miracle Godson drowned while swimming with friends there in April 2015.

Dangers

Although it is on private land, the quarry attracts young people from across Lancashire, particularly during spells of warmer weather - despite repeated warning about the dangers of open-water swimming.

In 2000, 17-year-old Craig Croston from Platt Bridge also died at the Appley Bridge site, while four years ago, Natalie Prescott suffered life-changing injuries after jumping from the cliff and was lucky to survive after hitting the rocks.

In 2010, 31-year-old Cameron McInnes died at the privately-owned Hilldale Quarry in neighbouring Parbold after a rope swing he was using snapped sending him plunging into the water.

And Sam Fowler, 14, from Norris Green, Liverpool, also died at Hilldale Quarry while swimming there in 1999.

Final push to church's £500k refurbishment project

Reverend Sue Guenault said: "I only arrived at the church in September but I know that the congregation have spent many years doing an unbelievable amount of work to raise £400,000 so far, which is incredible.

"We are onto the final push of the fundraising now as we've reached around 80% of the target and so we are able to start drawing up the final plans and applying for grants.

"If we reach our target it will be a fantastic time for the church as we will be able to put in new technology and modernise in order to continue to keep our worship relevant and up-to-date.

"However, we will be keeping the traditional character of the building, with the stained glass windows, pulpit and balcony all being retained."

Dominic's FOUR-midable fundraiser for mental health support group!

Report by Henry James

WHEN Dominic Byrne decided to raise money for a charity which helps people with mental health issues he certainly didn't take the easy option.

The 38-year-old from Ormskirk completed an incredible FOUR marathons in FOUR weeks in aid of Skelmersdale-based Empower.

Dominic decided to organise the fundraiser as his wife, Sheila, has been helped by the voluntary support group which is based at the Quarry Bank Community Association in Ormskirk Road.

Fortunately he is no stranger to marathon running having previously completed the Liverpool marathon twice and the Chester marathon.

Set up and run by Nikki Whitaker, Empower helps people suffering from mental illness on the road to recovery with support provided wholly by volunteers.

The group is mostly funded by service users paying £3 per visit. However for some people with mental illness, often unable to work, even £3 is too much.

Dominic's aim was to raise enough money to cover the cost of two months for the building which the group uses, £1,200 and he managed to pass this, raising a total of £1,364 for them.

The first marathon of his quartet saw him taking part in the Stratford-upon-Avon Marathon (also called the Shakespeare Marathon) on Sunday, May 7.

This was then followed by the Windermere Marathon on Sunday, May 21; the Liverpool Rock n' Roll Marathon on Sunday, May 28; and finally the Coniston Trail on Sunday, June 4.

Dominic, who works in sales when he's not pounding the streets in marathons, said: "Empower is important to me because in 2016 my wife, suffered a nervous breakdown. This left her unable to cope with managing basic everyday tasks, she went from a fun-loving outgoing fitness fanatic to being scared to leave the house feeling like there was no point in carrying on with life.

Dominic tackling the Coniston Trail

"But with the help of Empower she is slowly but surely finding the confidence to do things on her own.

"They have provided access to an assertiveness course for her and she can attend group sessions and receive a massage or reiki to help her try and relax.

"Although there's still a long way to go, without Empower I don't believe she would be anywhere near the stage she is now.

"Mental ill-health affects one in four people so although this is a story about how Empower has impacted our lives, there's a good chance it could have a positive impact on your life or someone close to you.

"Empower is a not for profit organisation, and is funded by people who use the service, so I wanted to raise money for them. Also, Mental health is still misunderstood and I wanted to make more people aware of the problem."

Despite the gruelling schedule Dominic enjoyed the experience, his only regret..."I wish I could have raised more."

Family's TV plea to identify arsonist

A FAMILY from Ormskirk whose cars were targeted by an arsonist are set to appear on BBC One's Crimewatch Roadshow today (Wednesday, June 28) appealing for information.

The Ponting family woke up to find their cars alight on their driveway in Yew Tree Road, in March this year.

On the programme, hosted by Rav Wilding and Michelle Ackerley and broadcast at 9.15am, they will appeal for viewers' help to identify the arsonist, who was caught on CCTV.

Newburgh Fair celebrates 40th anniversary with fun for all

THE 40th annual Newburgh Fair proved a hit with all ages with the annual procession on Saturday rounding off a full week of events.

This year's procession was led by the very first Rose Queen, Karen Bailey, accompanied by a number of her successors, while the children's floats had a 1977 theme to mark the anniversary and featured elements of Star Wars, the Queen's Silver Jubilee and disco fever.

Fiona Casey, chair of the Newburgh Fair Association, said: "The event was an outstanding success and we were able to celebrate the 40th anniversary of the fair. New memories were made and a big thank-you to everyone who helped and took part."

Pam (2nd from right) with family, friends and supporters at her Charity Party Night at The Civic

Pam races past charity target months ahead of marathon challenge

A VETERAN cyclist who is set to ride almost 250 miles from Vietnam to Cambodia has already raised £4,500 for a children's charity - before pushing a pedal in earnest!

Social worker Pam Howard is taking on the marathon challenge to raise funds for Alder Hey Children's Hospital in Liverpool.

The 68-year-old from Chisnall Brook Close, Haskayne, will line up along with other dedicated pedal-pushers to ride 400 kilometres from Ho Chi Minh City in Vietnam to the ancient temples of Angkor Wat in neighbouring Cambodia over nine days in October.

Pam raised £2,000 through various events including collections at a supermarket, garden centre, circus events, and a pub quiz.

And she topped that up by a further £2,500 with a Charity Party Night at The Civic in Ormskirk featuring live music from two local bands, a raffle, auction and an oriental buffet.

Her initial target had been to raise at least £3,500 ahead of the trip.

She said: "I'd like to say a really big thank-you to all the people who supported the Charity Party Night - including those who provided sponsorship and auction prizes, the bands who provided wonderful music throughout the evening, the doorman and food server, and all who bid in the auction."

Merseyrail want trains to be driver-only operated

More misery in store for rail passengers

Unions reveal plans for further strike action next month

Report by Henry James

FURTHER rail strikes are set to take place next month over the dispute about plans to introduce driver-only operated trains on Merseyrail.

Staff at Merseyrail will be on strike on Saturday, July 8 and Monday, July 10 while Arriva Rail North staff will stage a three-day strike from July 8 to July 10.

Merseyrail staff will also strike on Sunday, July 23, the last day of The Open golf championship at Birkdale.

The RMT union claimed Merseyrail continues to turn down a proposal to set up a "safety working group", alongside outside safety bodies and the train manufacturer Stadler, on the principle that a second safety-critical person would be retained on all services.

Merseyrail bosses place the blame on the RMT who they say is unprepared to find a "middle ground."

RMT general secretary Mick Cash said: "Merseyrail continue to refuse all reasonable attempts to settle this dispute.

"They have repeatedly kicked all conciliatory approaches by RMT back in our faces and made it clear that all that they are interested in is the union signing a surrender document which gives them a free hand to rip apart the safety culture on the railway."

The union said they recognised the severe impact that the action will have but "are dealing with an employer that refuses to listen or engage with the union on the critical issue of safe rail operation."

Jan Chaudhry-van der Velde, Merseyrail's managing director, said: "Although we brought several new initiatives to the table in the last round of talks, the RMT is unprepared to work with us to find middle ground.

"As well as guaranteeing a job to all guards who wish to stay at Merseyrail under the same terms and conditions, once the new trains arrive in 2020, we also put on the negotiating table a member of customer service staff on every train after 8pm.

"The strike on Sunday, July 23 is timed to cause maximum disruption to people attending the last day of the Open.

"At a time of fears of terrorism, it beggars belief that RMT are prepared to disrupt this event and make protection of the crowds more difficult.

"Our passengers should not be made to suffer at the hands of the RMT, and the region should not be caught in the cross-fire of a national dispute directed by unions in London."

Arriva Northern say they will be operating a reduced service on the days of the strike.

Project aims to help people get to grips with digital skills

A NEW project is being launched to help people get to grips with using digital technology in their daily lives and to encourage sharing of IT knowledge and skills within local communities in West Lancashire.

The Buzz IT project will offer a range of digital learning courses and IT workshops and is also looking for volunteers to work as Digital Champions.

The project is a joint initiative between West Lancs Borough Council, Lancashire West Citizens Advice, and West Lancashire Council for Voluntary Services (WLCVS)

Greg Mitten, chief officer of West Lancs CVS, said: "Buzz IT is about the community working together to make sure no one is excluded through a lack of knowledge in using web-based services or being unable to use digital tools to connect with their friends, family and local community."

West Lancs Council's director of housing and inclusion, Jacqui Sinnott-Lacey, commented: "We are very pleased to be involved in this project. As the council moves more services online it will give people who are unfamiliar with the Internet and digital technology new ways to access the council's services.

Greg Mitten, chief officer of West Lancashire Council for Voluntary Services

"They can also have the chance to learn new skills and see how the Internet can bring new opportunities for work, leisure and their daily lives."

And Guy Simpson of Lancashire West Citizens Advice, added: "More of the services that our clients need have already been moved online at a local level, or are being moved to online by central government as it pursues delivery of public services through 'digital by default'.

"We and Buzz IT are dedicated to the cause that every single government service must be available to everyone - no matter if they are online or not."

As part of the Buzz IT project, Lancashire West Citizens Advice have opened their first dedicated 'Digital Help Centre' in Skelmersdale at the Concourse Shopping Centre.

Buzz IT is now looking for volunteers to work as Digital Champions and buddies to provide supported digital access on the public computers within the centre. The role will encompass all aspects of assisting clients as well as passing on basic digital skills.

Buzz IT is asking for volunteers to commit to a six-month placement to assist in this exciting project. If successful it is planned to scale this across the whole of Lancashire. By being part of this initial Digital Help Centre, people have the opportunity to be part of the legacy that will be created for the Lancashire community for the foreseeable future.

For more information on volunteering for the Buzz IT project or to sign-up for one of the free digital learning courses being offered, contact Sarah at West Lancs CVS on 01695-733737, email sarah@wlcvs.org or ring Lancashire West Citizens Advice on 0344 245 1294.

Commissioner joins call for government to reverse police cuts

LANCASHIRE'S police and crime commissioner, Clive Grunshaw has joined colleagues and politicians from across the North West in calling on the government to reverse police cuts.

Mr Grunshaw, along with the Mayor of Greater Manchester and police and crime commissioners for Merseyside and Cheshire, wrote to the Home Secretary to ensure that the public's concerns about police cuts are top of the government's agenda.

Citing recent attacks and the erosion of neighbourhood policing that provides vital community intelligence they wrote: "As Home Secretary you have the ultimate responsibility for ensuring that police forces across the country are properly resourced so they can keep people safe and tackle crime. We are asking that you ensure that this is a priority for the government by making a clear commitment to reverse austerity in policing."

Lancashire's police and crime commissioner Clive Grunshaw

Across the four forces more than £385 million in savings have had to be found since 2010 with a further estimated £90m to be found by 2020. This has meant a reduction of more than 4000 police officers and 1,500 fewer police staff across the region.

Mr Grunshaw said: "I hear from people and officers across Lancashire about their concerns about the resources available to the police to do their job and keep communities safe.

Message

"Despite promises from ministers around 'protecting' budgets Lancashire receives less money every year from the government to deliver a policing service.

"My message to the Home Secretary is that this needs to change and we need to start reinvesting in policing, not cutting our budgets further."

In Lancashire savings of £72 million have had to be found since 2010 with more than £19 million additional savings estimated to be needed by 2020. This has meant a reduction of 800 officers and more than 400 police staff.

Mayor's appeal to boost three causes

THE recently-appointed Mayor of West Lancashire, Councillor Neil Furey has officially launched his 2017 Charity Appeal.

Councillor Furey and his mayoress wife, Julie, will be helping to raise funds for three local worthy causes during their year in office - the 42nd Ormskirk (Skelmersdale St Paul's) Scouts, Evermoor Hub and The Sewing Rooms in Skelmersdale.

Cllr. Furey said: "These are three very worthy causes that I hope the people of West Lancashire will join me in supporting over the next 12 months as we hope to raise as much money as possible."

Evermoor Hub, formerly known as Digmoor Community Centre, is now run independently by volunteers. Hundreds of people use - and in many cases rely on - the activities offered there which include a food bank, dance and martial arts clubs, luncheon clubs and IT facilities.

Special events include fun days and community clean-ups, and the hub opens on Christmas Day to provide meals for those who would otherwise spend the day on their own without a Christmas lunch. Food parcels are also provided for the needy over Christmas.

Margaret Highton, chairman of the centre's management team, said: "We are delighted to be one of the mayor's charities. We have to raise all the money for our activities ourselves, so this is great for us and we hope to use any funds we receive on our community activities."

The 42nd Ormskirk (Skelmersdale St. Paul's) Scout Group have 85 members, 71 of whom are children aged between six and 14, while the rest of the group is made up of adult Leaders.

Members enjoy lots of traditional Scouting activities including working towards badges and awards. All sections enjoy traditional Scout camping weekends.

Two Scouts are going to Denmark this summer with a county contingent and have raised their fares through a range of activities.

Group Scout Leader, Ian Flavell, said: "We are delighted to have been chosen as one of the mayor's charities. We hope funds will help buy craft, sports and camping equipment and other items for each section and contribute to ongoing group costs."

The Sewing Rooms, based in Skelmersdale, is a not-for profit organisation that uses the skill of sewing to help people in a variety of ways.

A group for younger women teaches sewing skills that could help them get a job or become self-employed.

Another group is for women over 50 who may have lost their job, so as well as learning new skills the women don't become isolated. There are also popular community events.

Paula Gamester, a co-director, said: "It is a real honour to be selected as one of the mayor's charities. We hope to use money we receive on community projects such as Your Sew Fab, a project designed for young people and Patchwork Buddies for women over 50."

Fundraisers band together in memory of terror victims

Report by Danielle Thompson

THE owners of a business in Tarleton have raised hundreds of pounds for the families of two young girls from the area who died in the Manchester Arena terror attack.

Claire Newland and Dave Wilkinson, directors of Newland and Wilkinson Independent Funeral Directors in Hesketh Lane, ordered 500 commemorative wristbands for people to wear in memory of Georgina Callander and Saffie Rose Russo.

Ariana Grande superfan Georgina, 18, and eight-year-old Saffie Rose, a pupil at Tarleton Community Primary School, were two of the 22 victims killed in the attack by suicide bomber, Salman Abedi.

The silicone bands, in both adult and child sizes in pink and yellow, were offered at a suggested donation price of £1 each in memory of the tragic youngsters - and sold out within 24 hours!

Now Claire and Dave have ordered pin badges, each depicting both a yellow and a pink balloon, which will be available to purchase for a small donation, from Monday, July 3.

Generosity

The proceeds of the two appeals will divided between the two girls' families next month.

Claire Newland told the Champion: "We haven't counted all of the money from the wristbands yet but we're pretty sure it will be at least £500.

"We've had a lot of people coming in to buy wristbands and even when we told them we had run out, they were still putting donations in the box!"

"Originally the idea was to do the pin badge but they took longer to make so we did the silicone bands in the meantime as they could be done a lot faster - but we ran out in less than 24 hours!

"We have been absolutely astounded by the generosity of the community."

For more information, call Claire on 01772 811165.

A change for the better on litter

IT is unusual, I think, for newspapers to receive letters praising people for not littering. Let my letter be an exception.

Skelmersdale junior parkrun, run every Sunday at 9am from the Concourse area via ASDA and back again via the subways and underpass, started in December.

Initially, we had to spend a lot of time clearing up broken glass and litter from the course to make it safe for children to run. Now, six months on, we still need to clear some litter and broken glass, but it is much better.

It does really look like there has been a change of attitude to the physical environment of this bit of Skelmersdale, as people get to understand what it means.

We are grateful for that change, and while we are not there yet, it is possible to foresee a litter-free course for children and parents who are focused on doing their bit for their community by getting active and getting healthy.

Paul Cotterill, Skelmersdale junior parkrun

Councils need to take some pride in our area

HOW I agree with other readers' complaints in regard to the care of verges.

Here in Shirdley Hill the council has not looked after the green area in the middle of the village properly for at least three years.

The hedge is only cut once a year now so that it grows too tall between cuts which creates a blind bend for car drivers at a road junction. There is an accident waiting to happen.

A resident took the trouble to cut it recently, over 100 yards long, with his own petrol cutter and it took him two days.

Complaints seem to fall on deaf ears.

Also, as mentioned in the Champion front page article (June 14) the grass field is left too long between cuts, and then not cut close enough so it has become coarse, lumpy and starting to get big weeds like docks and is not good enough as a playing surface any more.

The village itself is starting to look scruffy with weedy pavements and gutters.

As another reader pointed out the roundabout at the bottom of Holborn Hill used to be Ormskirk's pride and joy but now is an unkempt mess. What a bad impression it gives.

I also agree with the comment made about our MP Rosie Cooper as she takes ages to reply to correspondence and then says nothing meaningful.

Finally, I drove down the Formby bypass recently and noted that it was immaculate. So, come on West Lancashire and Lancashire County councils, take some pride in your own area.

Hazel Anderton, Shirdley Hill

Level of grass-cutting at busy junction is pathetic

FURTHER to the article in the Champion (June 14) I would also like to comment on how dangerous the Bickerstaffe Four Lane Ends junction is because of the overgrown grass.

I have tried to telephone the council about this problem but it is impossible to make contact.

The council don't want to speak to you but want you to use their website to report the problem and this is where the problem starts.

The website is difficult to negotiate and because some grass has been cut the site will not allow you to report a problem, which the council deem to have been completed. I say some work as the amount of grass cutting is pathetic for such a busy junction.

The council/contractors have made a token gesture by cutting some grass on a roundabout but have not attempted to cut the grass on the triangular islands.

Mr Wilders, Bickerstaffe

Do the job properly or don't bother!

IN response to the report in the Champion (June 14) I returned from holiday in Majorca full of anticipation to see the 'clean-up' of the grass verges and general vegetation in the Aughton area.

If I had cut my own lawn to that standard I would probably end up in the divorce court! What a mess! Do the job properly or don't do it at all.

John M. Brown, Aughton

Time to put a stop to selfish drivers taking up disabled parking spaces

ON Friday, June 16 I took my mum to Marks and Spencer's in Ormskirk to do a bit of shopping. My mum is quite badly disabled and has to use her stick to get around.

As we pulled on to the car park. there was a big four-wheel SUB in front of us which drove straight in to the last disabled space.

I then watched the lady in her 40s jump out of the car with her shopping bags and walk into M&S. We had to then find another space to park our car.

As we were doing our shopping I spotted the lady who showed no signs of being disabled at all. In fact, she carried two big shopping bags to her car, put them in, jumped back into the car and then sat there on her phone.

I see this happening more and more. It is very unfair on genuine disabled people who need the spaces.

Can something please be done to check that people parking their cars need a disabled space or are people just becoming selfish?

What has West Lancs Council ever done for us?

I READ with interest Graham P. Walker's comments (Letters, June 14) with regards to West Lancs Council.

I feel that he has a point. However, surely the question that needs to be answered above all others is what has the local council ever done for the village of Up Holland?

Now, apart from the mandatory services, such as refuse collection, I am struggling to come up with anything significant in the last few years.

Perhaps the real issue then is whether or not it's time to re-design the borough boundaries and place the village of Up Holland either within the control of Wigan or St Helens councils.

J.G., Up Holland

Professional and caring hospital staff worthy of a five-star rating

WITH all the adverse comments about the NHS it is refreshing to find a local hospital that bucks the trend.

Having recently been there for major surgery I cannot fault Ormskirk General on any point (apart from the parking charges!)

My grateful thanks go to all - from the theatre staff, led by Mr Matthew Cartwright-Terry, for their skill, professionalism and care; the matron and staff of Ward G for their cheerful and unstinting care; to the maintenance staff who keep the area spotless.

If this hospital was a hotel then the tourist board would award it five stars.

Thanks to you all and my best wishes when you become Ward H.

Shame on these lazy cemetery rubbish dumpers

ON Father's Day, like many other people, I visited my late father's grave at St Richard's RC cemetery in Liverpool Road, Skelmersdale.

I and others were utterly appalled to see the mountain of rubbish left behind by previous visitors. There are clear signs around the cemetery which politely ask that your rubbish is taken home with you.

To all those lazy, inconsiderate and disrespectful people - you know who you are - I question whether you care at all that your loved ones and others are laid to rest in the rubbish tip you have created. Shame on you all, are your hands too clean, your vehicles too expensive or do you not have bins at home?

Whose job is it now to clear the rubbish you left behind? The priest? Unknown volunteers?

You chose a peaceful cemetery for your loved ones' final resting place, why do you want them to rest amongst your rubbish?

Angry, Skelmersdale, by email

Affordable homes for rent and sale near completion

NEW affordable homes available to rent and buy in Rufford are expected to be completed shortly.

West Lancs Council has negotiated an arrangement with Jones Homes to provide 14 affordable homes on their development at Roseacre Gardens. It is intended that all the affordable homes will be owned by a housing association.

The council has nomination rights for the rental properties which consist of 10 homes, made up of four two-bedroom houses, four three-bedroom houses and two two-bedroom bungalows. Initial preference will be given to households with a local connection to the Rufford area in line with the council's allocation policy.

The remaining four properties consist of three two-bedroom houses and one three-bedroom house. These will be available for shared ownership sale once a housing association has been identified for the site.

Anyone interested in shared ownership on this site can send their contact details to the council's housing strategy and development programme manager by email to jonathan.mitchell@westlancs.gov.uk. These will then be passed on to the housing association which acquires the affordable homes.

Jacqui Sinnott-Lacey, West Lancs Council's director of housing and inclusion, said: "The council has made a commitment to providing good quality affordable housing."

The rented houses will be advertised on HomeFinder, the council's choice-based letting scheme. You must be registered with HomeFinder to bid for properties. Information on how to register is available on the website www.westlancshomefinder.co.uk.

If you are interested in the rented properties, you are advised to register as soon as possible and then check the website regularly as they will be advertised soon.

Information event for potential adopters

LANCASHIRE County Council is organising a special information event for people wanting to know more about adoption.

The authority is asking people in the county to think about growing their family through adoption and the free event, at County Hall, Preston on Tuesday, July 4, will outline the process involved for interested parties.

It will run from 6 to 7:30pm and there's no need to book , although early arrival is recommended to enable a prompt start. People attending the information evening are also asked to stay for the whole session.

The council is focussing on two different types of adoption to enable babies and young children to go to live with their permanent family quicker.

Best for Baby (concurrent placements) places babies and young children, aged up to two, with foster carers who may go on to give them a permanent home.

Better Beginnings (the fostering-for-adoption scheme) is for children where there is no realistic prospect of a return to their birth family.

County Councillor Susie Charles, Lancashire's cabinet member for children, young people and schools, said: "We're looking for people from all backgrounds to offer a permanent home and family to children who are not able to live with their birth family. What matters are your personal qualities and that you are able to provide a loving home where you can support and look after a child throughout their childhood and beyond.."

To adopt, you must be over 21 and live in Lancashire or close by, whatever your race, gender, sexuality, living arrangements, age or employment status.

You can find out more about the information evening and the adoption process at www.lancashire.gov.uk/adoption or call the adoption team for an informal chat on 0300 123 6723.

Free parking for the event is available on the Arthur Street car park, next to County Hall.

Students' care share app wins digital competition

STUDENTS from West Lancashire College are celebrating after being named overall winners of the Digital Advantage competition, run by the Pop Up Digital Agency, for their car share app for festival goers.

The students have been working with Skiddle, a website that sells tickets for events, festivals, gigs and clubs, who fully endorsed the app following a presentation of their business plan.

Skiddle director, Jamie Scahill, commented: "I am so impressed by the students' idea, work and enthusiasm. I will gladly back the ideas they have for their app, it's a brilliant idea."

The West Lancs College team competed alongside nine other schools and colleges presenting their idea to a panel of judges at County Hall in Preston and winning a unanimous decision.

And as well as the title, they also won £2,000 to further develop the app.

Course tutor, Anjuman Robinson, said: "I am extremely proud of this fantastic achievement and the hard work and dedication the students have shown to this project.

"I very much look forward to working with the students to further develop their innovative app."

Memorial garden to county's fallen police officers unveiled

A MEMORIAL garden paying tribute to officers who have lost their lives in the line of duty has been unveiled at Lancashire Constabulary headquarters.

The garden features a memorial wall with individual plaques for fallen officers and a fountain in the centre.

The plaques are inscribed with the names of 120 Lancashire officers who have lost their lives during service.

It was officially opened by Chief Constable Steve Finnigan at a ceremony at the site in Hutton on Tuesday, June 20.

Chief Constable Finnigan said: "It was an honour to officially open the memorial garden which has been created as a fitting tribute to the officers who have sadly lost their lives while serving in Lancashire.

"Officers put their lives on the line every single day to keep the public safe and the garden serves as a place where we can commemorate and pay tribute to the bravery of our fallen colleagues."

Work on the garden project, which was overseen by the Lancashire Police Federation, began in April and donations have flooded in from many contributors.

Federation chair,Rachel Baines, said: "I have been immensely proud to be involved in the creation of the memorial garden and without the help of so many people this would not have been possible. It has been very humbling to spend time with families of our fallen colleagues, which is where the concept for the garden was born.

"I know the garden will be a fitting and lasting tribute to those who have given their lives, and a place of reflection for visitors."

Slimmers shed the lbs to help 'bag' the £s for Cancer Research!

Report by Henry James

A GROUP of big-hearted slimmers are turning their attention to raising pounds instead of shedding them!

Members of West Lancashire Slimming World groups have collected more than 700 bags of clothes which they've successfully 'slimmed out of' to raise money for Cancer Research UK as part of a national fundraising campaign.

Consultants who run the West Lancs groups, encouraged members and their friends and families to join the Big Slimming World Clothes Throw by collecting clothes, shoes and accessories they no longer need to generate stock for the Ormskirk Cancer Research UK shop.

Team developer, Tina Whewell, said: "This year's Big Slimming World Clothes Throw event has been a fantastic success and I was overwhelmed by the amount of bags our members managed to collect for Cancer Research UK – they really are amazing!

"It was a fantastic atmosphere in group and it was so rewarding to raise such a phenomenal amount of stock for such an incredible cause. And it's not just members of the group who have cleared out their wardrobes - we've had great support from the whole community. I'm still buzzing from all the donations we've had!

"Because our members are so sure they'll never need their 'big' clothes again, when we told them about the Big Slimming World Clothes Throw they couldn't wait to bag them up and donate them to charity.

"Members of the West Lancashire groups have lost an amazing 35,900lb between them since January this year simply by making small changes to the way they shop, cook and eat and by becoming more active.

Slimming World consultants Sue Allt and Zoe Baker and team developer Tina Whewell with some of the bags they have collected

"The Clothes Throw is a perfect opportunity for all of us to celebrate our success, inspire other people and raise money for charity at the same time. There is also a more serious side to our support for Cancer Research UK however. One in two people are diagnosed with some form of cancer during their lifetime, and being overweight can increase the chance of developing the disease. It is vital we spread the message that being physically active and losing weight by adopting healthy habits all help reduce the risk of developing cancer."

Clothes collected by Slimming World will be donated to Cancer Research UK shops across the country, with each bag raising up to £25. Last year slimmers collected close to £2.1million worth of stock for the charity nationally.

OLD BED RECYCLING SERVICE

Simpler fare systems would be just the ticket

I NEVER cease to be amazed at how many apparently quite sensible people fall hook, line and sinker for political party bribes at election time.

I suppose that whichever group stands to benefit by any one particular 'bribe', they might just be lucky and that one will prove affordable while others quietly sink.

The real trouble with these though is that rarely are they sufficiently thought out. Many are basically good ideas which eventually collapse simply because, having been announced in a blaze of publicity, the actual running of them has been shuffled into the long grass.

Look at the concessionary travel pass - the pensioners' bus pass to you and me. They were hardly mentioned during the General Election campaign, largely I think because few politicians understand them.

I happen to think the concessionary travel pass was one of the best ideas. I know there are those who reckon them to be a waste of money, but the simple facts are that without them we would probably have even more villages totally cut off from public transport and hundreds of thousands of poorer pensioners condemned to never being able to go anywhere under their own steam.

But the problem for any 'giveaway government' is that eventually the Treasury catches up with them, and in the case of the bus passes the Department for Transport suddenly realised it could not possibly afford the scheme.

Now the stated object of the scheme is that the bus operator should be no better and no worse off by carting us twirlies around, which sounds 'fare' enough (get it?). So the DfT made it as complicated and confusing as possible for bus operators to claim back the money they were losing.

Apparently the 'guidance' runs to 64 pages plus appendices and has become so complicated that both operators and the local authority which has to pay them has had to turn to consultants to try to work out how to beat each other in the 'who owes who what' stakes.

As an aside, this is one of the reasons smaller bus companies are either going out of business, or at least out of the ordinary fare-paying passenger side of it. They cannot afford to pay someone to win back what is their due.

Which should bring me on to train fares, but it doesn't. Because if I have a very tentative grasp of how bus fares work (or not), I have no idea at all about what any medium-long distance train fare is or should be or how to find out.

Yes, I know that once again I should be on the interweb or what-have-you, but even with this modern miracle it is, I am assured, still a minefield when it comes to working out train fares, or even timetables sometimes.

I suppose it's because I'm an old fuddy-duddy, but I far preferred the old British Rail system, where you knew what the normal fare was, you knew what the cheap (i.e. saver and super saver fares were) and the clear time restrictions on both.

And what on earth was wrong with that? OK, some clever fella couldn't jeer at me because he had just spent hours on his computer to find that if he bought 15 separate tickets he could get to Norwich at half the price I had fallen for. But apart from oneupmanship, what benefit is this plethora of fares and tickets to anyone?

And a proper fares structure does not prevent any train operator from using bargains to increase patronage, any more than it did British Rail.

Again, sticking to my Norwich journey, I remember a BR promotion which got you to Norwich (or Ely) for a day out for just a very few quid. But the point is, it was easy and simple. You know, 'Liverpool to Norwich and back for just £X, offer ends . . . etc.'

Sounds a whole lot more civilised than a computerised scramble to me.

Chernobyl children enjoy respite visit

by Danielle Thompson

CHILDREN whose health has been affected by the Chernobyl disaster have been enjoying a respite trip to Ormskirk and Maghull to boost their immune systems.

The Friends of Chernobyl charity brings the youngsters, who suffer from high levels of radiation poisoning which can cause heart and thyroid problems, to the UK from Belarus each year.

It is believed that these month-long stays, during which the children can eat 'clean food' and breathe 'clean air', helps to clear their bodies of the radiation and boost their immune systems.

The children who are visiting from Belarus with optician Neil Hayes and his staff

Checks

Members of the Maghull and Ormskirk branch of the charity are currently hosting a group of seven to 11-year-olds.

Branch treasurer, Tony Leigh, said: "If you see a group of young children around the Ormskirk area dressed in red hoodies and T shirts, they could be the latest group of deprived children from Belarus visiting the area.

"For many years groups of children have visited the UK, including West Lancashire, for four weeks in June.

"These visits are said to extend their lives by a year for each month they spend in the UK.

"They undergo medical checks at Ormskirk Hospital, eye tests at Neil Heyes opticians in Burscough and dental checks at Liverpool Dental Hospital - all free of charge, including any treatment - as well as enjoying plenty of fresh air and good, uncontaminated food.

"During this latest trip three of the children have had multiple tooth extractions at Alder Hey Hospital!

"In addition to four nights spent at an outdoor centre near Skipton, they visit exciting local attractions and adventure places and are just a little spoilt!

"The children stay with local families, who usually have children of a similar age to themselves.

"The trustees ofthe charity are indebted to the many people and businesses who generously support the visit and the critical fundraising activities."

School rounders squad book county games final spot

TALENTED rounders players from Ormskirk School are celebrating after clinching their place in the finals of the SPAR Lancashire School Games.

They defeated teams from six other schools in the borough to win the right to represent West Lancashire in the finals at Blackpool's Stanley Park next month in a bid to be crowned county champions.

This is the second time that Ormskirk School have qualified for a place at the games, after previously winning a super eight athletics match.

Now in its 11th the SPAR Lancashire School Games is made up of two main events providing all children in the county with the opportunity to take part in competitive sport.

The finals on Tuesday, July 4 will see more than 2,000 children competing in a range of sports including gymnastics, football, athletics, mixed cricket and touch rugby.

Last chance to nominate local companies for prestigious Rural Business Awards

THERE'S still time - just - to nominate rural employers and food and drink producers in West Lancashire for this year's Rural Business Awards.

Run in partnership with the CLA and Amazon, the awards are split into 13 categories and are the only UK-wide programme dedicated to showcasing the success of rural businesses – a sector which employs in excess of 3.4 million people in more than 600,000 businesses.

Organisers of the prestigious awards are seeking some of the hidden superstars among Lancashire's food and drink producers and brands and you can enter or nominate your favourite in the Best Rural Food and Drink business by logging on to www.ruralbusinesawards.co.uk/enter/.

They are keen to hear about any countryside-based businesses that deserve recognition for their excellence - from farm shops, food producers or growers, to restaurants, bars, brewers and distillers.

They also want to hear about rural firms who are really making a difference by providing much-needed employment.

But hurry, the closing date is this Friday, June 30!

The brainchild of Jemma Clifford and Anna Price - themselves both successful rural businesswomen - the Rural Business Awards are a counterpoint to the many city-based business awards which often neglect successful countryside entrepreneurs.

Jemma said: "We are really excited to hear from the cream of Lancashire's food and drink organisations. As for our Rural Employer of the Year category, this too is a vital element of our awards and we're keen to hear about all those fabulous businesses that are toiling away to create job opportunities to keep our countryside alive and our rural communities thriving."

Doug Gurr, UK Country Manager for Amazon, said: "We're delighted to be backing the Rural Business Awards to help shine a spotlight on the best of rural businesses – small and large alike."

And CLA director general, Helen Woolley, added; "Locally produced food and drink from across our wonderful countryside is such a key element of the British rural economy,"

Categories for this year's awards are as follows:

1. Best Rural Start-up
2. Outstanding Rural Diversification Project
3. Best Rural Clothing or Accessories Business
4. Rural Innovation of the year
5. Best Rural Manufacturing Business
6. Best Rural Professional Services Business
7. Best Rural Creative or Media based Business
8. Social enterprise/community project of the year
9. Best Rural Tourism Business
10. Best Rural Sporting Business
11. Rural Employer of the year
12. Rural Entrepreneur of the year
13. Best Food & Drink Business.

Award categories will be decided by an independent panel of judges drawn from the rural business sector, official agencies and rural charitable organisations. And a glittering awards ceremony will be held in Surrey on October 5.

Take a walk on the wild side at nature reserve open day

GORSE Hill Nature Reserve will open to the public at the weekend as part of a national initiative to celebrate the UK's wildflower grasslands.

The site in Holly Lane, Aughton will be open from noon to 4pm on Sunday, July 2, national Meadows Day.

The reserve contains more than 100 different species of wildflowers and grasses supporting a wealth of wildlife and encouraging butterflies, bees, moths and birds.

Visitors can explore the meadow on a self-guided walk and there will be a range of activities for children, including searching the maze for butterflies and a teddy bears' picnic.

In addition, walks through Cabin Wood have been made more mobility-friendly with the new pathway funded by The People's Postcode Lottery and constructed by volunteers from the Prince's Trust and staff at the nature reserve.

Reserve manager, Jonathan Atkins, said: "We'd like as many people as possible to share what we have here and help protect the meadow for future generations. The five-acre reserve is a truly magnificent meadow, created from what was once a field of stubble. This event is very much a family occasion so please come and join us. We look forward to seeing you."

Carnival time in Westhead

IT'S festival season in West Lancashire and events in this year's Westhead Carnival start tomorrow (Thursday, June 29) and continue into the weekend.

Now in its 44th year, the popular event usually attracts thousands of visitors to the village.

This year's programme kicks off with a car boot sale starting at 3pm on the school field on Thursday June 29.

And on Friday there will be a fancy dress dance in the marquee from 7.30pm onwards when the theme is something beginning with 'T'. This will feature male and female group prizes, a hog roast, bar, cocktail bar and disco.

Tickets, priced £10 including a free drink (not a cocktail) before 9pm, can be ordered from Clare on 07540129677.

Saturday, July 1 sees the main carnival procession leaving from Crosshall Brow at 12.30pm en route to the field at Westhead Lathom St James CE Primary School.

There will be stalls, vintage cars, a dog show, a brass band, ukuleles, a singer, a children's entertainer, and a performance from Spartac disabled gymnasts.

Tickets £2 for adults, 50p for children.

The Carnival Queen will be crowned on Saturday and the carnival will be opened by the Mayor of West Lancashire, Councillor Neil Furey.

Moira MacIver, secretary of the Westhead Carnival Association, said: "The event will be great fun and money raised will go to local organisations and charities.

"The carnival brings the community together and is a fabulous day. The more people attend the merrier."

Chance to earn funding boost for community initiatives

Up to £25,000 available in company awards scheme

CUSTOMERS of a financial services provider are being given the chance to nominate good causes for a local community awards scheme with the chance to win up to £25,000.

The OneFamily Community Awards offer the opportunity to win a significant financial grant to support a special project or initiative that will benefit the good cause and its members.

There are four different categories - health; disability and social care; lifelong learning; and active living; and community groups.

Each category will have eight winners with four projects receiving up to £5,000, three projects winning up to £10,000 and one project scooping £25,000.

The Community Awards are part of the OneFamily Foundation, which was created to give customers the opportunity to support their local community and the good causes in their area that matter to them and their families.

Karl Elliott, customer strategy director at OneFamily, said: "The awards are now open and we're urging our customers across Lancashire to get involved and nominate a good cause that could benefit from a financial grant.

"As we are owned by our customers we want to do more than just provide great products. We want to help our customers, their families and the communities where they live in other ways, and our OneFamily Foundation enables us to do just that.

"The community awards are a big part of the foundation's work, and each year we give hundreds of thousands of pounds to projects close to our customers' hearts.

"In 2016, we touched the lives of more than 100,000 people through the awards and this year we want to help even more.

"Projects must be nominated to be in with a chance of winning, so I want to encourage OneFamily customers across Lancashire to get involved and nominate the good causes that mean the most to them."

Entries for awards close on Wednesday, July 19. OneFamily customers can nominate their local project by visiting www.onefamily.com/your-foundation/community-awards/.

Free fruit is yours for the picking . . .

FRUIT lovers being urged to take their pick of blackcurrants, raspberries and gooseberries - free of charge - from the Community Garden next to Burscough Bridge railway station.

The Sustainability Group set up the plot several years ago under the guidance of Burscough Parish Council.

Parish Councillor Cynthia Dereli said: "We would like to draw attention to the fact that blackcurrants are now nicely ripening on bushes in the Community Garden plot near the station.

"The sign inviting residents to help themselves to the fruit has not proved durable but the fruit bushes, with a little 'tender loving care' from members of the group and also staff at Burscough Tyres, are in good form this year. There are some raspberries and gooseberries as well. "Why not pop along, have a look and pick some for yourself or someone who would appreciate them?"

Trust workforce campaign targets childcare providers

Health staff urge support for mums who want to return to work or study AND continue to breastfeed

HEALTH professionals at Lancashire Care's children and family workforce are marking National Breastfeeding Celebration Week this year (June 26-30) with a campain targeted at nurseries and childcare providers.

The aim of the campaign this year is to support and normalise longer-term breastfeeding by encouraging nurseries and childcare providers to support women returning to work or study to continue to breastfeed.

Katie Wharton, infant feeding coordinator at Lancashire Care NHS Foundation Trust, said: "In Lancashire, nearly 70 percent of women were in employment in 2016, which is higher than the North West average. As a result, women who are planning to return to work are more likely to stop breastfeeding compared to women with babies the same age who are not planning on returning to work.

Sonia Tabassum and Katie Wharton from the infant feeding team at Lancashire Care

Benefits

"To support more babies receiving breastmilk, we are providing nurseries with guidance packs to support the breastfeeding welcome child care scheme. These packs further support and promote the work nurseries are doing, raise awareness among mums of their ability to return to work and breastfeed and promote breastfeeding as the biological norm.

"Breastfeeding ensures important immediate and long-term health benefits for infants and their mothers, including positive impacts on children's cognitive development and their health as adults. It's good news for mums and employers too as breastfeeding is associated with higher productivity and lower absenteeism for breastfeeding mothers."

Each nursery will receive a pack which includes guidance around becoming breastfeeding welcome that incorporates both antenatal and post-natal conversation, storage of breast milk guidance, responsive bottle feeding information and the importance of longer term breastfeeding.

This week will also see the launch of the county-wide Feeding Future-Generation document aimed at looking at how everyone in Lancashire can play an important role in supporting women to breastfeed their babies.

Healthwatch report highlights gap in perspectives between staff and patients

HEALTHWATCH Lancashire, the public voice on health and social care in the county, has published a report entitled 'A week in the surgery' following a week spent observing the working environment in a GP surgery.

The organisation has been undertaking a programme of engagement activities in GP practices across Lancashire since May last year to gain patients' views on the ease of making appointments, the quality of care provided and the awareness of patient involvement via patient participation groups and online access to medical records, repeat prescriptions and booking appointments.

One of the main themes identified was difficulty in patients booking appointments and it was felt that spending time in a practice would provide further insight into this.

The views and experiences of nurses, GPs, receptionists, call handlers, supervisors and a pharmacist were gathered and recorded.

Findings from the report showed a gap in understanding of perspectives between staff and patients, as well as staff feeling the demand on the service is too high.

There also seemed to be an appreciation from staff on the challenges patients face when booking appointments.

The surgery responded and supplied a list of three actions provided by the surgery in relation to how they will improve service users' experiences following the activity.

Sheralee Turner-Birchall, chief executive at Healthwatch Lancashire, said: "This project enabled us to triangulate intelligence from a 360-degree perspective considering feedback from patients, as well as staff.

"Healthwatch Lancashire would like to thank the surgery for their response to the report and for the actions which it put in place as a result of our findings."

The report is available to read online or download on the Healthwatch Lancashire website www.healthwatchlancashire.co.uk/reports

Details of Summer season at Picture House released

PARBOLD Picture House has released its Sunday Cinema and Front Row Live Transmissions for the Summer.

People can see the National Theatre: NT Live presentation of Salomé on Tuesday, July 11 at 7pm. This is the internationally acclaimed theatre director Yaël Farber's charged retelling of the infamous biblical tale.

Hidden Figures can be seen on Sunday, July 23 at 7pm. This film is the true story of a group of African-American women hired for their maths abilities to be part of the USA's space programme.

On Tuesday, August 15 at 7pm, the National Theatre: NT Live presentation of Angels in America Part 1: Millennium Approaches can be seen. This is Tony Kushner's multi-award winning play about Reagan's America, Aids, and life.

Angels in America Part 2: Perestroika is being shown on Tuesday, August 22 at 7 pm.

Then on Thursday, August 31 at 7pm audiences can see the National Theatre: NT Live presentation of Yerma. It stars Billie Piper who won the 2017 Olivier Award for Best Actress. For more information call 01257 463878, or log on to www.parboldpicturehouse.org

Starkey talk

THE English constitutional historian and a radio and television presenter David Starkey is to talk at Southport's Atkinson on September 29 at 7.30pm on the title Henry VIII: The First Brexiteer?

In his talk Starkey will argue that the Reformation could be defined as the first Brexit, when his ministers devised the doctrine of parliamentary sovereignty.

Starkey will draw on his unique knowledge of Henry's reign to examine his tumultuous personal life, which pitted religion against politics as brutally as in our own age of Isis, through to the Grand Tourists who bought European culture with British money, all offering so very many parallels with the Brexit situation we find ourselves in today.

Strolling to the nearest pub is more than enough exercise!

Life On Cars
DAVID SIMISTER
www.lifeoncars.co.uk

I'VE LONG suspected that jogging is just a sweatier form of walking. I'll cheerily wave at people powering past on yet another 10k, but I'm quite content that simply strolling to the nearest pub is exercise aplenty.

But then a colleague – who's practically taken me on as some sort of flabby protégé – insisted I give it a go. Worryingly, I've found this whole moving quickly without a car lark to be surprisingly good fun to be honest.

I feel better for myself after every run, and I'm already beginning to see the results on my waistline, which was quick.

The idea is that I'll get fitter, build up my speed and stamina – and then I'll invite the new Volkswagen Polo along too, because boy does it need it.

By the looks of things Germany's supermini of choice has spent too long watching The Jeremy Kyle show with a can of Stella in one hand and a freshly cooked Fray Bentos in the other.

By Volkswagen's own admission it's taller and wider than the outgoing model, and bumper-to-bumper it's 94mm longer, which is like going up three waist sizes in car terms.

What's more, the latest press packs favourably compare its dimensions to how big the Golf was in the Nineties but don't mention weight once, presumably because the Polo's scared of stepping on the scales and screaming in horror.

Which is a shame, because while the new Polo looks like the Golf (which is a good thing) and builds on 2009's European Car of the Year (ditto), it really is getting increasingly hard to relate to it as a small car.

The gap between the new boy and the pint-sized Up is bigger than you'd imagine.

But then the Polo isn't the only one looking a tad porky these days.

The other day I had a nose around Nissan's new Micra and it is vast compared to the loveably cute bubble-shaped ones learner drivers used to have crashes in, and while I love the looks of Renault's latest Clio I had to conclude the 900cc engine in the one I borrowed felt a bit strained because it's a far bigger car than its predecessors.

Virtually all of today's superminis are blobbier than they used to be – very few are lighter, smaller or nimbler.

But I can guarantee that while small cars have got bigger, the multi-storey at the Concourse in Skelmersdale hasn't expanded - and nor, for that matter, have any of Southport's parking spaces.

If you really do need to squeeze into those awkwardly tight spaces outside supermarkets, then you would really be better off slipping down a size. You would be best instead to buy something like Ford's Ka+ instead as it is a smaller car to park.

That, or you really-could jog down to the shops after all!

Ormskirk extend lead at top with five wicket win

ORMSKIRK extended their lead at the top of the Liverpool & District Cricket Competition Premier Division after dismantling third placed New Brighton for 115 at Brook Lane, writes Glenn Wallworth.

Scott Lees took 5-44, whilst Louis Botes top scored with 38.

In reply the hosts reached 120-5 to wrap up a maximum points victory, with wicketkeeper-batsman George Lavelle top scoring with 45 and Ian Robinson making 25.

Southport & Birkdale chose to bat first at Northern and were soon wishing they hadn't as they were dismissed for 79 with Josh Hine scoring 31 of them, whilst the rest had very little to offer against Tom Jones 6-21, Liam Grey 2-31 and Tom Sephton 2-22 In reply Chris Laker 67* and Elliot Bradley 13* polished off the runs (81-0) just before tea to complete a maximum point victory and leave S&B pointless and at the foot of the table.

Bootle's wicketkeeper-batsman Neil Williams was left high and dry on 56* as Lytham dismissed their second placed hosts for just 107, with Jack Saunders 3-11 and Lancashire's Toby Lester 3-26 ripping out the top six with only 23 on the board.

In reply, an undefeated 101 run second wicket partnership between Taylor Cornall (69*) and Lancashire skipper Steven Croft (39*) took Lytham to a convincing nine wicket victory on 109-1.

Formby continue to struggle after they were beaten by five wickets at Colwyn Bay. Batting first, Formby posted 222-5 dec up on the board, thanks to valuable runs from Sam Oldham (64), Daniel Stanley (45) and skipper Ian Cockbain (30).

In reply 62 from Adam Campion helped lead the hosts to victory on 223-6, with Lancashire spinner Stephen Parry taking 3-53.

Ainsdale climbed off the bottom of the table with a first win of the campaign at Wallasey, the hosts were put in to bat and dismissed for 94, with Martyn Farrell 4-29 and Sam White 3-28 taking the bulk of the wickets. In reply, Ainsdale also struggled with the bat but eventually reached 95-7 to seal a much needed morale boosting victory, with in form opener Faiz Fazal carrying his bat with an unbeaten 31* and Adam Friar undefeated on 24*.

Ex-England starts lined up to play in Mawdesley T20 game

MAWDESLEY Cricket Club officials are staging a T20 exhibition game against the PCA Masters, a team of ex-England internationals provided by the Professional Cricketers Association, on Friday, July 7.

The game is being held to celebrate the 120th anniversary of the club's entry into league cricket in 1897 and follows on from the successful game played against the PCA Masters in 2014 to celebrate the opening of the club's new cricket pavilion.

Ryan Sidebottom

A number of top ex-England stars have already confirmed their intention of playing including some of the top pace bowlers Ryan Sidebottom, Simon Jones, Alex Tudor and Steve Harmison along with Owais Shah, Adam Hollioake and Mal Loye providing the batting class.

Richard Blakeley and Paul Nixon will both be playing and looking to score runs with one of them taking the gloves.

A Mawdesley Select XI comprising players from Mawdesley, Rufford, Eccleston, Croston, Great Eccleston and Lytham Cricket Clubs, will be lining up to take on the England side in what promises to be an exciting encounter.

The PCA Masters match held at Mawdesley in 2014 was watched around a thousand spectators who were treated to an encounter of great skill and spectacle.

The PCA Masters team is managed by ex-England and Lancashire batsman Neil Fairbrother.

The match will start at 4.30pm at Mawdesley CC's Rectory Field ground off School Lane in Mawdesley.

Tickets can be bought in advance from the club by calling 01704 821867 or from the Spar Shop on New Street in the village.

Advance tickets cost for £8 and £4 for under 16s if bought before the end of June or tickets cost £10 and £5 in July or at the gate on the day. The PCA players will be signing autographs both before and after the game.

Former Wales international Roberts signs for Skelmersdale

Report by Neil Leatherbarrow

FORMER Welsh international Gareth Roberts has signed for Skelmersdale United.

The 39-year-old has played more than 600 league games in a 22-year career which has taken in eight different clubs, including Tranmere Rovers, Derby County, Chester and Stockport County.

He started his career with Liverpool and played alongside Michael Owen and Jamie Carragher in the FA Youth Cup winning side in 1996.

In 1999 he joined Greek side Panionios who were then managed by Ronnie Whelan, but he soon returned to Merseyside and was with Tranmere in what was arguably the club's most successful period ever.

His seven years at Prenton Park included an appearance in the 2000 League Cup Final at Wembley which they lost 2-1 to Leicester City.

Now the holder of nine full international caps for Wales the Wrexham born left-back next joined Doncaster Rovers in 2006.

In 2011 he signed for Derby County making 96 league appearances for the Rams.

When he joined Bury in 2013 he was by now 35 years old and after a season went to Notts County followed by spells with Chester and Stockport County.

Last season Gareth was a member of the coaching staff at Clitheroe in the division that Skelmersdale will be playing in next season, so his knowledge of the level may be a crucial aspect.

At Stormy Corner he links up with experienced duo Danny Ventre and Steve Gillespie in helping develop a group of very promising youngsters.

Alan Rogers (who didn't play in the same Tranmere side as Roberts) insists his side play attractive football so it should be a very interesting season, especially because of the contrasting ages of the playing staff.

He told the Skelmersdale United website: "I am delighted to bring a player of Gareth's calibre to the club.

"He comes to us to extend a fantastic career and will add so much experience to the dressing room.

"He has a fantastic attitude for the younger lads to follow and brings a touch more quality to the team."
